RE: Lower Darby Creek Area Superfund Site (the "Site")

Dear Ms. Prisk:

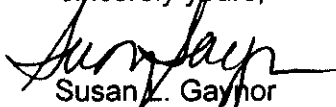

This confirms our telephone conversation of September 18, 2001 in which you confirmed that EPA has no further documentation or evidence linking the former Scott Paper Company's Chester, PA facility to the Site.

You further stated that:

- The redactions on the former Eastern Industrial driver's interview summary are required to protect his identity.
- When I stated that Kimberly-Clark Corporation did not require his name, only the dates that he allegedly drove trash trucks that link the Chester, PA facility to this Site, you stated that release of the dates might also reveal his identity.
- Therefore, to better define for Kimberly-Clark and Scott's former Chester, PA facility the scope of our investigation, EPA states that a follow-up search of records be confined to the time period 1965 through 1976 instead of the entire time period of 1958 to 1976.

Based on this information, a diligent search in response to EPA's requests will be undertaken.

Sincerely yours,

Susan L. Gaynor
